HOUSE ON ALDERMANBURY STREET
St. Mary's City

circa 1675-1730

This large, late 17th century structure began as a small two-bay cottage, 20 by 18 feet, of post-in-the-ground construction. An interior brick fireplace 9'6" wide was topped by a wood and clay flue. Later a new front section was added, enlarged and rebuilt. The old cottage became a brick-floored service room, perhaps a kitchen, at the rear of a building 23 feet wide and over 50 feet long.

The house appears to be located on Garret van Swearingen's lot in St. Mary's City. Its enlargement may date from the destruction of van Swearingen's first inn by fire in 1677. Excavated ceramics show that the building was occupied well into the 18th century. Previous excavations of 1933 and 1937 are currently being extended.
